

The funniest paradox on the American scene is the spectacle of a district fair town roiling all year for the annual show and then celebrating Fair Week by griping about the shrinkage in local business "for the duration."

It happens every year in Hope; but it also happens every year in every other town that has a fair or livestock show, and so the complaints are unoriginal, monotonous, and silly.

Ordinary trade is blunted during Fair Week; it could hardly be otherwise, with a harvest crowd in town headed for the livestock arena, the midway, and full of carnival spirit. I don't believe any local business escapes the bite. Newspapers don't do a booming advertising volume during Fair Week, and there's usually a lot of extra expense—like the $100 we spent just for engravings, not counting the cost or time of the photographs. And the retailer or distributor can tell the same story: While business is off at the store, he is out at the Fair Grounds incurring additional expense on a booth and other promotions.

But we spend 51 weeks living off our trade territory and it would be a small citizen indeed who begrudged the annual week that is devoted to the regional Stock Show. Actually no one wants to change matters—It's just the American privilege of letting off steam in a gripe.

If the publicity was particularly emphatic on this year's Stock Show there was every indication that it was going to be needed in order to make the 1953 exhibition successful. We had a leveling off in livestock prices, an unsatisfactory rainfall year—and preliminary reports from the fairs which ran ahead of ours in September were none too good.

I don't believe the dollar-volume equaled 1952 at this year's Third District Stock Show, but attendance and enthusiasm were never better. And that's a top performance for our community and territory, in a year when other fairs were taking a shellacking.

To me Stock Show Week is a time to be thinking about the long-range problems of our territory rather than merely one week's local business. Back in 1929 when I came to Hope our fair event was called the Southwest Arkansas Fair. Hempstead county used to produce upward of 30,000 bales of cotton a year, and was still producing around 20,000 in 1929. Therefore we had a regional Fair devoted to general farming.

Today it's no longer a general Fair. Today it's a Livestock Show. And you know why. Today Hempstead county's cotton production is down to between 5,000 and 10,000 bales.

A change-over of this size, even when spread out over 25 years, poses new problems for both the people on the land and the people of the town where they trade. The Livestock Show points up our beef-animal industry, but what I had in mind to write about today was the dairy industry, which is even older locally, and the problems of one are common to both.

The Dallas Times-Herald had an editorial the other day discussing some dairy figures published by the Progressive Farmer. It seems that milk costs a lot more when produced in the South than it does on Minnesota farms, and the Progressive Farmer, trying to find out why, came up with these answers:

1. Minnesota dairymen get $3.50 per 100 pounds for fluid milk, but operators in Texas have to charge $5.00 "to come out."

2. One of the reasons for this is that the average cow in the North-Central States produces 5,632 pounds of milk, against only 3,848 pounds for the average Southern cow. The only way the Southern producer can get out behind this eight-bell for the moment is to charge higher milk prices.

3. Being older in the art of dairy husbandry the Minnesotans have a definite edge in long-time breeding programs and actual animal care.

This is the score as applied generally to the South. In our own particular section we have definitely closed the door on big-time cotton production and turned to livestock. Whether it be beef or dairy cattle our new pitch for the farm dollar deserves the fullest information and the most solid support by the people, whether in town or country.

Anything they do in Minnesota can be done here. As a matter of fact, we have it to do.

And that's what a fellow ought to be thinking about during Stock Show Week, instead of griping over an unsold pair of socks—which will sell pretty soon anyway, judging from the way the mercury fell out of the thermometer Monday night.

Not Satisfied, Bell to Appeal Rate Increase

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., today described as "disappointing" the $2,550,000 annual rate increase granted it yesterday by the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

Warren E. Bray, Southwestern general manager in Arkansas, indicated the PSC ruling might be appealed. He said it was being studied to see "what its effects will be from the standpoint of meeting a continuous demand for new service in Arkansas."

Attorneys for cities protesting the rate increase also indicated an appeal would be made. O. D. Longstreth, Jr., Little Rock city attorney, said he believed it would be appealed first to the circuit court and then to the state supreme court.

The amount of the increase was sufficient to assure that no refunds would be made by Southwestern Bell on rates collected under bond since September, 1952.

The company put a $2,404,000 increase into effect under bond but asked for a total boost of $3,800,000.

Actually, the PSC ruling will mean a slight reduction in rates for most customers in the state.

The commission order directed the company to place a revised rate schedule into effect Oct. 20 that will be about $315,000 off the new rate hike by requiring these steps:

(1) An increase in coin box charges from the present five cents to ten cents. The $200,000 produced by this new revenue would be subtracted from the amount charged home and business customers under the new rate hike.

(2) Make up a deficit in toll rates to compensate the company for a decrease in revenue occasioned last year when it revised its traffic agreements with independent exchanges. This would take another $115,000 off the monthly rate bills.

Longstreth said an appeal was planned on the premise that charges for local service are "absolutely incorrect and improper." He said refunds to subscribers would be sought.

The telephone rates in Arkansas, he said, "are entirely out of line."

Delaney to Head C of C Committee

Chairman Harrell Hall, Retail Merchants Committee of the Hope Chamber of Commerce, announced today that Cecil Delaney will be the new chairman of the Retail Merchants Trade Day Program. Mr. Delaney will assume his new duties as chairman today, October 6.

Announcement is also made that the Retail Merchants Committee will meet Monday afternoon, October 12 at 2:30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office. It is especially urgent that 25 members be present for this meeting.

Three committees will make their reports at the October 12 meeting. Mike Kelly, Chairman of the Employee-Employer Party Committee, and Fred Robertson, Chairman of the Christmas Promotion Program Committee, and Corbin Foster, Chairman of the Christmas Decorations Committee, have indicated that they will be ready with their committee reports.

Appreciation is also expressed from the chairman to all of the merchants who cooperated and participated in the activities and events of the Third District Livestock Show.

Air Postal Service Starts Experiment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under personal escort of Postmaster General Summerfield, the three-cent letter and the two-cent postcard took to the air today in the big experiment of flying on surface first class mail between major American cities.

Flights between Washington and Chicago and between Chicago and New York inaugurated the Post Office Department's tests.

Summerfield and a group of airline presidents shouldered mail sacks at Washington's National Airfield to get the first flight away for Chicago, starting at 8:44 a.m. EST.

Summerfield himself boarded the first plane away after asserting that the occasion was a momentous one "a big day in the history of aviation and a big day in the history of the postal service."

Similar ceremonies were in progress during the morning at the Chicago and New York airports.

On the initial flight between these cities, the plane carried 500 copies each of all daily newspapers published in Washington, Baltimore, Richmond, New York and Chicago for unprecedented quick inter-city delivery.

Local DAR Chapter to Hear State Regent Wednesday

Mrs. Herman A. Knorr, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be guest speaker at a luncheon of the John Cain Chapter, Wednesday, October 7.

Mrs. Knorr is a member of the Pine Bluff Chapter. She is also a member of the national society of Colonial Dames of America in Arkansas and the Order of the First Families of Virginia. She is on national boards of four patriotic societies, has been a genealogist for 30 years, has a professional rating and is a member of the League of American Pen Women.

She has compiled four books on Virginia County Marriages which are now on the market.

Mother, Six Children Die in Wreck

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A young mother and six children are dead, victims of a traffic accident in which a steel-laden truck crushed the new sedan in which they were riding.

Dead are Mrs. Helen Virginia Lee, 28, of Norwalk; her daughter, Karen Lee, 4; Linda, Sandra and Wendy Diller, 4, 5 and 2; Timothy Pulliam, 3½, and Susan Shincy, 3.

Mrs. Lee was taking her daughter and the neighbor children, all dressed in play suits, to her mother's home in nearby Montebello yesterday to escape the 101-degree heat.

State highway patrolmen said the truck and trailer carrying 20 tons of steel was traveling approximately 45 miles an hour when it went through a red light and struck the sedan, carrying the wreckage nearly 300 feet.

Officers arrested the truck driver, Pierce Bauder, 24, of Lynwood, on seven counts of manslaughter.

Bauder said that he had the green light and that Mrs. Lee's car made a left turn in front of his truck.

Pike Jury Awards $50,000 Judgment

MURFREESBORO (UP) — A Pike County circuit court jury yesterday awarded $50,000 one of the county's largest judgments, in the death of Mrs. Benjamin Dunlap.

Mrs. Dunlap was killed last July 20 when a car in which she was riding was in collision with a truck driven by Leo Mays, Hot Springs, at Sugar Loaf Creek bridge on Highway 70.

The verdict gave $20,000 to the administrator of Mrs. Dunlap's estate, plus $10,000 each to Dunlap and the couple's 10-year-old son, Benny.

Dallas Police Have Rapist's Description

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Police revealed today they had a description of the Negro killer-rapist who turned Dallas into an armed camp, and said a man who "confessed" the crimes "looks like a screwball."

Meanwhile, tension among residents had eased and authorities said they were receiving fewer prowler calls, which last week numbered about 300 on the heaviest night.

The murder of Mrs. H. C. Parker, 29, dime store clerk, under a bridge last Wednesday night eliminated a series of at least 20 attempted attacks on women by a nude Negro.

It was learned today police had obtained from a woman parked in a service station near the murder scene the description of a man believed to be the slayer.

The woman, who refused to be identified because her husband frequently is out of town, said she knew Mrs. Parker. She said she saw a tall, thin Negro wearing a mechanic's tunic, cap walked ahead of Mrs. Parker almost to the bridge, then stop and let Mrs. Parker go ahead.

Dock Workers Return in Face of Court Order

NEW YORK (AP) — Longshoremen went back to work on New York docks bright and early today in compliance with a court order halting their "no contract, no work" strike in East Coast ports.

In hiring shapings at several piers, several hundred members of both the International Longshoremen's Association which was recently expelled from the AFL, and members of a new rival AFL union reported for duty speedily and without incident.

There were no fixed work pings, however, for the rival unions control workers at different piers. The court order issued last night on joining their strike activity for 10 days under Taft-Hartley law provisions left unsettled the basic jurisdictional dispute between the ILA and the new AFL organization, and there have been indications of further work stoppages in the inter-union struggle.

At two piers 11 games of longshoremen got busy handling baggage and supplies for the liners Andrea Doria, scheduled to sail at noon, and the Constitution, departing tonight.

Break in Kidnap Case Believed Near

By AL DOPKING KANSAS CITY (AP) — In a voice strained with emotion, a spokesman for the wealthy parents of Bobby Greenlease today said there had been absolutely no contact with the kidnapers of the 8-year-old boy.

Stewart Johnson, close friend of the family, appeared at the door shortly before 11 p.m. of the huge Greenlease mansion and told newsmen:

"There has been no contact with a go-between. There has been no nothing."

Johnson's eyes were filled with tears. His voice broke as he said: "The door is open to have little Bobby return. Reports a contact has been made with the kidnapers are absolutely untrue."

It was the first time since yesterday morning that the family has said anything beyond "no comment."

Earlier in the day Paul Greenlease, an adopted son, said there had been no developments. At that time Greenlease appeared tired and worried.

A missing spokesman at the home had aroused speculation a break might come any time in the nine-day-old case.

The spokesman, Robert Lederman of Tulsa, hasn't been seen at the home of the 71-year-old father, Robert C. Greenlease, since early Sunday morning. Other associates of the family have met all queries.

Methvin Trial Is Scheduled for Tuesday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A former State Highway Department engineer goes on trial here today on charges of bribe acceptance and having an unlawful interest in a Highway Commission contract.

M. C. (Pete) Methvin of Little Rock is the first person to be prosecuted in connection with a main Highway Audit Commission report of "waste, extravagance and corruption" in the highway department under the administration of former Gov. Sid McMath.

Three other men are to be tried later.

Circuit Judge Henry W. Smith of Pine Bluff will preside through an exchange of circuits with Judge Harry C. Robinson of Little Rock. Robinson, a McMath appointee, disqualifies himself.

Methvin was indicted on two counts of accepting bribes by the Pulaski County Grand Jury on March 12. The indictments claim Methvin accepted bribes of $1,200 and $1,320 from Gordon McNulty of Pine Bluff in May, 1950.

Religious Group Told America Has No Choice

By MERRIMAN SMITH

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (UP) — President Eisenhower in carefully chosen words informed the American public today that the United States' build-up in stocks of atomic and hydrogen bombs is necessary to deter attack by Russia.

"We are forced to concentrate on building such stores of armaments as can deter any attack against those who want to be free," said the chief executive, speaking in convention hall here to 5,000 delegates to the 6th national assembly of the United Church Women, National Council Churches of Christ.

It was a somber speech with references to the dreadful possibility of "windrows of unidentifiable dead" in event of an "unharnessed blast." And the church women accepted it as a serious declaration, applauding only at the start and finish of the President's address.

Mr. Eisenhower flew here from Washington. His government plans, the Constellation Columbine, made an instrument approach to the overcast Potomac Naval Air Station outside the city.

During the 14-mile drive to Convention Hall, the chief executive was cheered by large crowds at highway intersections and along the streets of Atlantic City which was a misty, chilly town today.

Mr. Eisenhower's speech from Pine Bluff will preside through an exchange of circuits with Judge Harry C. Robinson of Little Rock. Robinson, a McMath appointee, disqualifies himself.

H-Bomb Talk Confusing the Public

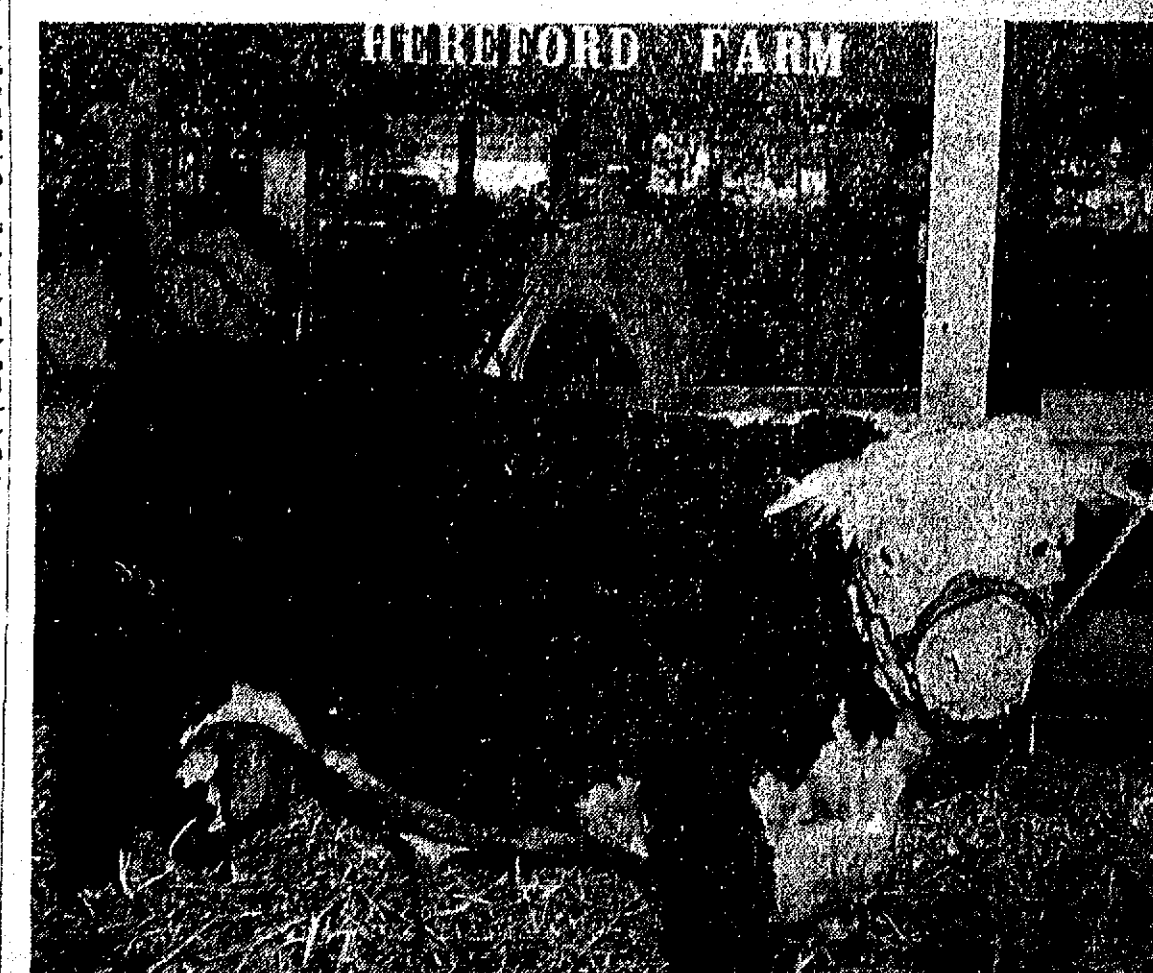

By LOUIS CASSELS WASHINGTON (UP) — Contradictory statements from three high officials today produced a new peak of public confusion about the size of Russia's H-bomb arsenal.

In direct conflict were Chairman W. Sterling Cole of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, who said Russia has "H-bombs—plural," and Civil Defense Administrator, Vol. Peterson, who said he is "assuming" that neither Russia nor the United States has the hydrogen bomb yet.

Third contributor to the prevailing confusion was Defense Mobilization Administrator, James Parsons, who said the United States has "H-bombs—plural."

District Reserve Champion Produced by Johnny Brannon, Cattle Supt. State Show

This is Lord Larry the 5th, senior bull calf and reserve champion of the Third District Stock Show, exhibited by Johnny W. Brannon for the Brannon-Spencer Hereford Farm of Spring Hill community. Shown in eight classes, taking seven first and one second, Mr. Brannon's 5th yearling bull calf, Lord Larry, set a record as a student of animal husbandry at Oklahoma State University. MURFREESBORO (UP) — A Pike County circuit court jury yesterday awarded $50,000 one of the county's largest judgments, in the death of Mrs. Benjamin Dunlap.

Mrs. Dunlap was killed last July 20 when a car in which she was riding was in collision with a truck driven by Leo Mays, Hot Springs, at Sugar Loaf Creek bridge on Highway 70.

The verdict gave $20,000 to the administrator of Mrs. Dunlap's estate, plus $10,000 each to Dunlap and the couple's 10-year-old son, Benny.

Dallas Police Have Rapist's Description

DALLAS, Tex., (UP) — Police revealed today they had a description of the Negro killer-rapist who turned Dallas into an armed camp, and said a man who "confessed" the crimes "looks like a screwball."

Meanwhile, tension among residents had eased and authorities said they were receiving fewer prowler calls, which last week numbered about 500 on the busiest night.

The murder of Mrs. H. C. Parker, 29, dime store clerk, under a bridge last Wednesday night, climaxed a series of at least 20 attempted attacks on women by a nude Negro.

It was learned today police had obtained from a woman parked in a service station near the murder scene the description of a man believed to be the slayer.

The woman, who refused to be identified because her husband frequently is out of town, said she knew Mrs. Parker. She said she saw a tall, thin Negro wearing a meekish, thin cap walking ahead of Mrs. Parker almost to the bridge, then stop and let Mrs. Parker go ahead.

Dock Workers Return in Face of Court Order

NEW YORK (UP) — Longshoremen went back to work on New York docks bright and early today in compliance with a court order halting their "no contract, no work" strike in East Coast ports.

In hiring shapshots at several piers, several hundred members of both the International Longshoremen's Association which was recently evicted from the AFL and members of a new rival AFL union reported for duty speedily and without incident.

There were no fixed work gangs, however, for the rival unions control workers at different piers. The court order issued last night enjoining further strike activity for 10 days under Taft-Hartley law provisions left unsettled the basic jurisdictional dispute between the ILA and the new AFL organization, and there have been indications of further work stoppages in the inter-union struggle.

At two piers 11 gangs of longshoremen got busy handling baggage and supplies for the liners Andrea Doria, scheduled to sail at noon, and the Constitution, departing tonight.

Break in Kidnap Case Believed Near

By AL DOPKING

KANSAS CITY (UP) — In a voice strained with emotion, a spokesman for the wealthy parents of Bobby Greenlease today said there had been absolutely no contact with the kidnapers of the 8-year-old boy.

Stewart Johnson, close friend of the family, appeared at the door shortly before 11 a.m. of the huge Greenlease mansion and told newsmen:

"There has been no contact with a go-between. There has been no nothing."

Johnson's eyes were filled with tears. His voice broke as he said: "The door is open to have little Bobby return. Reports a contact has been made with the kidnapers are absolutely untrue."

It was the first time since yesterday morning that the family has said anything beyond "no comment."

Earlier in the day Paul Greenlease, an adopted son, said there had been no developments. At that time Greenlease appeared tired and worried.

A missing spokesman at the home had aroused speculation a break might come any time in the nine-day-old case.

The spokesman, Robert Lederman of Tulsa, hasn't been seen at the home of the 71-year-old father, Robert C. Greenlease, since early Sunday morning. Other associates of the family have met all queries.

Hempstead Youth Takes Places at State Stock Show

Don Ray Brown, 4-H Club youth of Spring Hill community, made an excellent showing with five of his Jerseys yesterday at the Arkansas Livestock Show.

Don Ray placed as follows in the Arkansas 4-H Club show: third and fifth with heifer calves, third with a junior yearling heifer, fifth with a senior yearling heifer, tied with a four-year-old cow and fourth with a county group, in the showing and filling demonstration he placed third.

Don Ray, today, is assisting Johnny Brannon of Brannon-Spencer Hereford farm in the showing of their Herefords.

Methvin Trial Is Scheduled for Tuesday

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — A former State Highway Department engineer goes on trial here today on charges of bribe acceptance and having an unlawful interest in a Highway Commission contract.

M. C. (Fritz) Methvin of Little Rock is the first person to be prosecuted in connection with a main Highway Audit Commission report of "waste, extravagance and corruption" in the highway department under the administration of former Gov. Sid McMath.

Three other men are to be tried later.

Circuit Judge Henry W. Smith of Pine Bluff will preside through an exchange of circuits with Judge Henry C. Robinson of Little Rock.

Robinson, a McMath appointee, disqualified himself.

Methvin was indicted on two counts of accepting bribes by the Pulaski County Grand Jury on March 12. The indictments claim Methvin accepted bribes of $1,200 and $1,320 from Gordon McNally of Pine Bluff in May, 1950.

This is Lord Larry the 6th, senior bull calf and reserve champion of the 1953 Arkansas Livestock Show, exhibited by Johnny W. Brannon for the Brannon-Spencer Hereford Farm of Hope. The calf entered in eight classes, taking seven firsts and one second. Mr. Brannon, 24, who made a record as a student of animal husbandry at Oklahoma A. & M., has been named reserve champion for the Arkansas Livestock Show, playing this week at Little Rock.

For Arthur S. Flemming, who said in a weekend report that Russia is now "capable of delivering suddenly and without warning the most destructive weapon ever devised by man on chosen targets in the United States." He first told reporters he meant H-bombs, but later said he had not intended to credit Russia with a stockpile of completed hydrogen weapons.

The Atomic Energy Commission, whose secret intelligence reports presumably are equally available to Cole, Peterson and Flemming, declined to comment on the various declarations. The only official AEC statement on the matter was issued Aug. 25, and merely confirmed that Russia had set off a hydrogen explosion.

The AEC did not say then, and has refused to say since, whether the Soviet explosion involved a combination test "device" or a finished weapon that could be delivered on a target.

Likewise, the AEC has never said whether the United States has any "deliverable" H-bombs. The assumption has been widespread that this country is now producing actual weapons, but all that is known for certain is that a much so-called "device" was set off last November at Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific.

Peterson, who was interviewed last night on the Mutual Broadcasting System's radio program, "The Big Story," emphasized that "there is some difference between having a device and having a deliverable bomb that can be dropped around the world."

"I am assuming," he said, "that we have the hydrogen bomb yet, I don't know what day we will have one. I don't know what day they (the Russians) will have one. But I am afraid it will not be too many months away."

It also came amid renewed threats by South Korean leaders to drive out the Indians, whom they denounce as pro-Communist.

Thimayaya apparently is not concerned if South Korea threatens to have the huge U. N. Command and Communist forces "at our disposal."

He said the U. N. Command was responsible for preventing South Korean troops from entering the neutral zone to attack Indian forces.

Thimayaya did not comment on a letter sent to him today by Gen. Mark W. Clark in which the United Nations will not waver from the principle of freedom of choice for the 23,000 anti-Communist prisoners in Indian custody.

Clark said the U. N. had shed blood to win that right and will not compromise.

American liner Grpsholm was moved into berth the first passenger vessel to dock since instance of the court order.

Only in Brooklyn, longshoremen had not returned to work by mid-morning. No reason was given immediately.

Police said there were 33 tickets at various Brooklyn piers where 20 ships were docked.

Even as President Eisenhower's first use of Taft-Hartley brought a temporary truce in the I.L.A.'s wage-contract dispute with employers, there were reports that new work stoppages might result from the I.L.A.'s fight with the AFL for control of waterfront labor.

I.L.A. officials said their members might refuse to work alongside longshoremen who have quit the I.L.A. to join the AFL. A number of longshoremen have left the I.L.A. in bulk which split some locals in two.

The rivalry between the I.L.A. and AFL has led to extraordinary police precautions on the waterfront, where supremacy is often determined by drawn and brutal force.

On the basis of a pessimistic report by a three-man fact-finding board which met in New York over the weekend, Eisenhower yesterday ordered the Justice Department to seek a Taft-Hartley injunction.

about Lederman with the statement that he was resting and couldn't be disturbed.

Lederman, because of his close ties with the family, frequently has been mentioned as a possible intermediary.

Shirring more mystery about the quiet efforts of the family to get their son back was a visit to the home last night by President Eisenhower's banker-brother.

Arthur B. Eisenhower spent 15 minutes at the home. As he left he told newsmen he could give them no information. He declined to say whether Lederman was in the house. Earlier in the day a nurse in the home said she hadn't seen Lederman around today.

Last week, when Joseph Williams, president of the Commerce Trust Co., visited the home, the father said he had made arrangements to get money day or night to meet ransom demands. Eisenhower is executive vice president of the same bank.

"We know—and all the world constantly reminds us—that the future well-being of humanity depends directly upon America's leadership," he said.

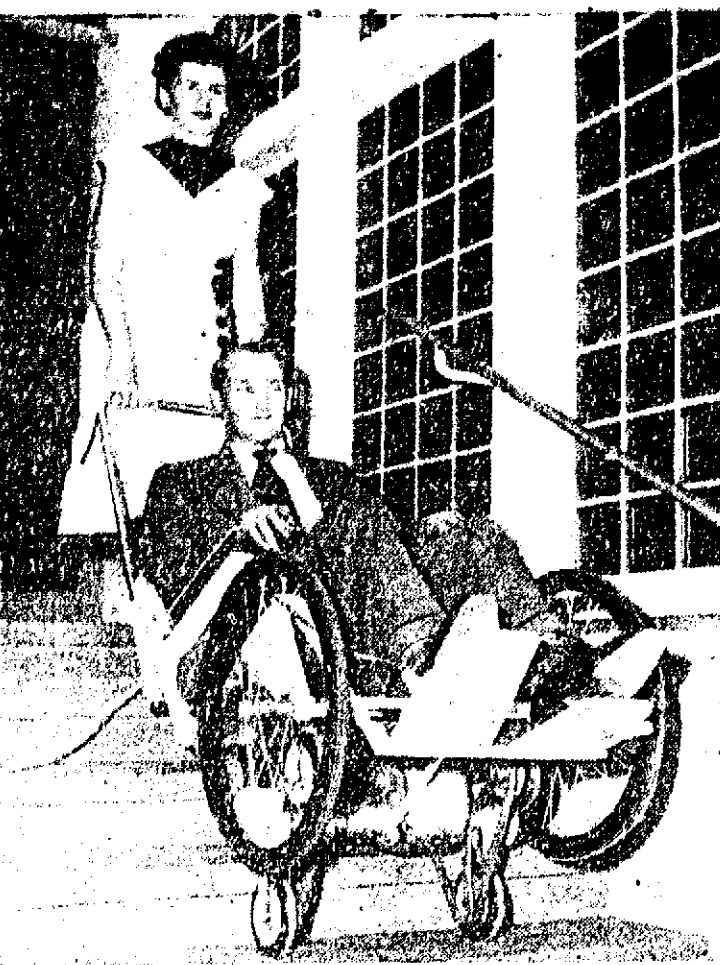

By MERRIMAN SMITH
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (UP) — President Eisenhower, solemnly facing a religious group, said today the United States has no choice but to build a huge atomic and hydrogen weapons stockpile to discourage any Russian idea of starting World War II.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches of Christ, Mr. Eisenhower said application of atomic and hydrogen power to armament is "the most extraordinary physical development of all time."

But with Russia "compelled by its purpose of world domination," he declared, the epochal new power sources "cannot yet be made exclusively to serve the advancement of man's welfare and happiness."

"Instead, we are forced to concentrate on building such stores of armaments as can deter any attack against those who want to be free," he said.

He said the United States "must certainly make sure that all the

Six Additional Red Officials Rounded Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brown today announced a roundup of six additional officials of the Communist party. The arrests were made by FBI agents in Cleveland, Logan and Stoughtonville, Ohio, and Newark, N. J.

In addition, the announcement said a detainer had been placed against another party functionary, now serving time in the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus for felonious car registration.

All of those involved were described as now holding or having held positions in the Communist party apparatus in the Midwest.

All were charged under the Smith Act with conspiracy to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States government.

The new move represents a continued effort to get into custody second-string leaders of the party, for prosecution similar to that which resulted in prison sentences for the 11 top leaders of the party in 1949.

To date, a total of 98 party officials have been arrested or detained, beginning with the arrest of the 11 in 1949.

The Justice Department named those taken into custody this morning as:

Joseph Brandt, 43, described as formerly organizational secretary of the party in Ohio, apprehended in Newark while on his way to work.

Ex-Arkansan Dies in Accident

FAIRFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A former-Arkansan, Lonnie Shelburt, 43, of Hazel Park, Mich., was killed and his wife and six other members of his family were hurt in a highway mishap near here yesterday.

Shelburt was returning home from a visit to his former hometown of Sheridan Ark.

Big Three Air Aggression Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is discussing with Britain, France and West Germany the possibility of giving Russia assurances against revival of German aggression.

Dulles also told a news conference that the United States, in its search for solutions to East-West conflicts in the atomic age, would be glad to give Russia assurances that it would not use either Korea or Austria for aggressive purposes.

Dulles also told reporters that recent evidence of the Kremlin attitude toward getting along with the rest of the world have not been encouraging.

He cited in this respect Russia's negative response to Western proposals for an Oct. 15 meeting on Germany and Austria, as well as Red China's refusal to reply to American proposals for settling up Korean political conferences.

With respect to inquiries about the possibility of so-called "top level talks" involving President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill and eventually Soviet Premier Malenkov, as well as French Premier Laniel, Dulles said he was not aware of any developments. London reports have indicated Churchill, back from a long rest, was renewing Big Four moves.

Dulles made clear that in talking about non-aggression assurances to Russia, this government does not have in mind any sweeping treaty proposal and that it would never consider underwriting, in any such arrangement, Russia's hold on the satellite countries of Eastern Europe.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate majority leader, had declared yesterday that he would favor a non-aggression pact only if Russia first permitted free elections in the satellite countries. Dulles was asked about this view.

Dulles quoted a speech he made several weeks ago to the United Nations to demonstrate that he had already taken a position on this point. He quoted himself as saying that no peace can be enduring which violates the concept of government resting upon the free consent of the people.

Police Payoff Probed in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A major investigation of a city's police department is being taken by a federal grand jury today. The story that has led to the probe is that police had paid off a mobster for a bribe to let him stay in the city.

Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons announced today that he had ordered an investigation of the matter. He said he had met with the city's police chief, Harry Lowmyer.

British to Try to Halt Jamaica Plot

KINGSTON, Jamaica, (UP) — The British cruiser Superb sped toward British Tuana today with 300 soldiers aboard on a mission to thwart a planned Communist coup in the colony.

Other warships stood by to take on these troops and the British army alerted its main Jamaican force to be ready to proceed to the troubled South American possession.

Military and government sources confirmed the troop movements and said London had suspended the colony's constitution, giving the governor full power.

The British took action after learning the Reds, headed by Chicago-born, Moscow-trained Mrs. Janet Jagan, were trying to seize complete power.

There have been numerous reports of violence in British Guiana since last April, when Mrs. Jagan's extreme leftwing People's Progressive party won an election.

Mystery had enshrouded the superb's movements since the warship left Bermuda several days ago without notice.

London had attempted to disguise the naval and troop movements by announcing that the regular Caribbean maneuvers had been advanced in order that they would not conflict with Queen Elizabeth II's proposed visit to the West Indian possessions in November.

Government and military authorities in Jamaica had been aware of the real nature of the superb's mission since Saturday but an official announcement was not made until last night.

Egyptians Commute Death Sentence

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Saadist ex-Premier Ibrahim Abdel Hadi was out from under the shadow of the gallows today after the governing revolutionary council commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment.

Hadi, premier during the 1949 Palestine war, was convicted last Thursday by a special revolutionary court of "high treason and conspiracy with a foreign power against the security of the state."

He was one of more than a score of Egyptians arrested on charges they had plotted the overthrow of President Mohammed Naguib's regime.

The death sentence of Ahmed Mohamed Awad, an Egyptian electrician formerly employed by the British in the Suez Canal one, also was commuted by the revolutionary council to life imprisonment at hard labor.

Averse to Wasting Time

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a girl of 23, and fairly attractive. Three months ago I met a nice young man of 30. I've seen him eleven times since our first meeting, though we have been alone on dates only four times. Usually we double date. I'm pretty sure he likes me, but I don't know if I'm wasting my time on him or not. He's never spoken of marriage. Should I ask him what his intentions are, give him up, or wait for him to make up his mind? C. H.

Be Less Impetuous

Answer: Three months and eleven dates is scarcely a demand bid for matrimony. Can't you give the young man a fighting chance to become acquainted before he ties himself up for life? I might be able to understand your impetuosity on the ground of first and intense love, but your letter doesn't even carry that assurance. You

Construction Worker Faces Murder Charge

HEBER SPRINGS (AP) — A 35-year-old construction worker at multi-millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller's mountain retreat was charged with first degree murder today in the ambush slaying of a farm foreman.

Cleburne County Prosecutor Alton Bittle said he filed the information in circuit court against Joe Colvin in the shotgun slaying Friday night of Sanford Reynolds, 45.

Charges against Colvin, whose home is in Heber Springs, will be heard in circuit court Oct. 20, Bittle said.

Bittle quoted Calvin as saying he lay in wait for Reynolds and shot the farm foreman as he rode by on a horse. Bittle said the slaying stemmed from "domestic trouble."

Colvin had been working on the Rockefeller estate on Petit Jean Mountain, near Morrilton.

Two Earthquakes Are Recorded

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fordham University seismic observatory reported today two severe earthquake shocks were registered last night.

The first shock came at 11:43 p. m. EST, the second nine minutes later. Seismograph instruments indicated the intense disturbances took place about 5,000 miles distant in either a northwest direction, which would place them in the Aleutian Islands or to the northeast in Romania.

Wilson Halts Army Display of New Tanks

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has ordered the army to cancel a scheduled public display of its first heavy tank, the 30-ton T-43.

A defense Department spokesman said Wilson regards the tank as a "new weapon" which should be kept secret.

The tank is two years old. The Army had planned to demonstrate it publicly at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland next Thursday.

Army Ordnance officers expressed bewilderment over what secrets would be revealed if the tank were shown to the public.

They said a factual description of it, as well as a picture, had already been approved by security officers in the Defense Department.

The spokesman said when the proposal for the demonstration was presented to Wilson, he said, "Tell the army to conform to policy."

The army then dropped the plan. Wilson referred to a policy set last April stating that "for reasons of economy and security, public demonstration of new weapons and equipment are not in the public interest at this time."

But Ordnance officials said it is "unrealistic" to keep wraps on the tank since it is now being issued to troops for testing purposes and thereby exposed to public view.

They also pointed out the demonstration would have cost the government little, if any, money since the tank was already at the proving grounds and the demonstration was just part of a show, still scheduled, to be staged for Ordnance experts and newsmen.

The T-43, the first U.S. "monster" tank, is the army's answer to Russia's 57-ton Josef Stalin tank. The Chrysler Corp., which has a contract to build about 150 of the heavy tanks, produced the first one in November, 1951.

An army spokesman said the tank can no longer be described as experimental and "is only new in the sense that it is the first tank of its kind."

Snake Bite Fatal to Tennessean

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., (AP) — Willie J. Parker, 53, died in Mountain Home Veterans Hospital yesterday of a rattlesnake bite suffered while handling the reptile in a religious ceremony at Hixmyr, Ky., Sept. 27.

Hospital officials said Parker was admitted to the hospital two days after being bitten. The snake had sunk its fangs in the palm of Parker's right hand.

Parker was treated with venom and toxin, but doctors at the hospital said the treatment is seldom effective unless it is administered within six hours after the bite.

Hixmyr is a rural community in Knox County in southeastern Kentucky where snake-handling religious services long have been conducted.

Its Fitting That in National Newspaper Week Tribute Is Again Paid to Ernie Pyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Pyle is dying in the distance of time, as the world wheels on to fresh wars and wars and new truces.

Many of the heroes of the great conflict are slowly being forgotten. But Ernie Pyle, the man, has become a legend, and the years have put no tarnish on the luster of his name and fame.

People in thousands of homes across America still cherish scrapbooks in which they pasted his stories and they still get them out and read them.

Why are they so loyal to him eight years after his death? I think it is because he was so loyal to them, and their sons, brothers, fathers or sweethearts in uniform during his lifetime. He was the greatest typewriter tourist guide in history, nobody before him or since has ever been able to take the home folks by the heart and lead them up to the front and realize the hell their loved ones were going through.

In a National Newspaper Week ceremony Monday they put up a plaque at his old school, Indiana University, in his memory. Ernie became the ninth of America's famous newspapermen so honored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalists' fraternity.

His old friend, Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, paid him tribute in the major address, and Ernie would have liked that. But if Pyle could have heard the praise he would probably have chuckled later in the general's ear, "Brad, you're never going to get anywhere until you pull yourself together and learn to quit telling such whoppers."

For Ernie wouldn't have been able to keep his effin face sober at the ceremony, particularly a ceremony honoring himself. He always thought people managed to make themselves look ridiculous on solemn occasions—like bears riding bicycles. Yet he had a vast sense of the true dignity of man. For all his fun and warmth and sympathy.

They also pointed out the demonstration would have cost the government little, if any, money since the tank was already at the proving grounds and the demonstration was just part of a show, still scheduled, to be staged for Ordnance experts and newsmen.

California GOPs May Reorganize

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Earl Warren's departure to become chief justice of the United States has brought the first move for a realignment of Republican forces in California under a Nixon-Knight banner.

It came in letters sent out by Murray Chotliver of Los Angeles, who was Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign manager, even before former Gov. Warren left yesterday for Washington, leaving Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight as governor.

Chotliver's proposal was seen as a direct challenge to supporters of Warren and his close political ally, Republican Senator William F. Knowland and Thomas H. Kuchel, for control of the state GOP organization.

The big prize is command of California's 70 or more votes at the 1956 national party convention. It is conceivable that both Nixon and Knowland, Senate majority leader, may try them for the presidential nomination.

Chotliver wrote 500 Nixon election workers to "volunteer your services to the Knight campaign."

Nixon went west from Washington but he endorsed it.

Knight, who succeeded to the office 18 months of Warren's third term, is a candidate for election to a full four-year term next year. He also inherited the titular leadership of the state GOP.

There was no immediate reaction by Knight.

West Memphis to Ban Some Movies

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—West Memphis Mayor William B. Fordyce said today he would ask the City Council to set up a censorship board to keep his city from being a "dumping ground" for movies and shows banned by neighboring Memphis.

Fordyce's announcement came after he viewed the film, "The Moon is Blue," playing at a theater here after it was banned by the Memphis censor board.

Memphis is just across the Mississippi River.

Mayor Fordyce said, however, he did not consider the movie morally objectionable as did Memphis censors.

"I wouldn't care if my kids saw this picture," he said. "But they would go to sleep in it."

The Memphis board objected to what it termed frank talk of sex in the banned film.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER—It didn't take the Army long to ship Stephen Kravczyk, of Cleveland, Ohio, to foreign service during World War I, but it took them 35 years to award him the Silver Star for heroic action. It was so long ago that the 56-year-old former machine gunner can't remember just exactly what he did to get the medal, but he believes it has belatedly been presented for saving a wounded soldier's life.

Eisenhowers Plan Social Season

By RUTH GMEINER

WASHINGTON (UP)—The President and Mrs. Eisenhower are resuming a full-fledged social season at the White House this winter after a lapse of seven years.

The White House social season, announced over the weekend, calls for six state luncheons and receptions between Nov. 3 and February 23. All will be white tie, long gown occasions.

The season will open the first Tuesday of November, nearly a month earlier than in bygone years, with a cabinet dinner. It will end the last Tuesday of February with a reception for members of Congress.

In between, the President and first lady will entertain all of Washington's top-ranking officials, high-ranking military officers, the diplomatic corps and the judiciary.

Mrs. Eisenhower, whose reputation as a hostess was well-established during her years as a general's wife, is undismayed by the busy winter in prospect.

"I am looking forward to it," she told reporters. But she conceded the schedule of 11 big parties in 16 weeks is "a little concentrated."

The first lady resorted to precedent in planning her first social season in the mansion.

As Mrs. Truman did, she found the diplomatic corps too unwieldy for one big dinner. So the diplomats will be invited in two shifts. Already when to protocol, Mrs. Eisenhower is making up the guest lists in consultation with follow the pattern of entertainment established during the Truman and Roosevelt administrations.

Californians See Good Business

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Forty-one West Coast investment men and financial editors say that business is good and they look for it to stay that way.

The Californians advanced that prediction last night at a dinner in their honor. They arrived earlier by plane to be guests of the Arkansas Power and Light Co. for a 2-day look at Arkansas industrial potential.

Valuing the general optimism was Raymond Hornby Jr., of a San Francisco investment company. He said "The public is a little bit leery but California businessmen seem to be fairly optimistic."

Warren Takes Oath as U. S. Justice

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON

WASHINGTON (UP)—Earl Warren, swearing to "do equal right to the poor and to the rich," became 14th chief justice of the United States today and then presided over the opening session of the Supreme Court's 1953-54 term.

The former governor of California took the oath in the marble-pillared chambers of the Supreme Court in the presence of President and Mrs. Eisenhower, Mrs. Warren, and other dignitaries.

Mr. Warren, who was summoned to the nation's highest judicial post by Mr. Eisenhower, succeeds the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, who died of a heart attack Sept. 8.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived for the colorful ceremony four minutes before the court formally went into session at noon, EST. They left at 12:08 p. m. after Mr. Warren took his second oath as chief justice.

Mr. Warren took the first oath administered by senior associate Justice Hugo L. Black.

In the presence of his court colleagues only in a private ante-chamber of the courtroom. In that ceremony, he swore to uphold the constitution.

The second oath, in which Mr. Warren swore to administer justice "without respect to persons and do equal right to the poor and to the rich," was administered in the courtroom by court clerk Harold H. Willey.

Mr. Warren gravely and quietly took over as chief justice at a time when the tribunal was confronted with some of the most historic decisions in its history, including the question of racial segregation in public schools.

Right hand raised, Mr. Warren said gravely:

"I, Earl Warren, do solemnly swear that I will administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal right to the poor and to the rich, so help me God."

As he finished the oath, Mr. Warren smiled broadly for the first time. He shook Willey's hand and strode to his seat at the center of the bench. He shook hands with Black on his right and Justice Stanley F. Reed on his left before taking his seat in the chief justice's chair.

Seven days a week, rain or shine, your newspaper is delivered to your home. The newspaper boy who places it there has come to symbolize one of our nation's great institutions. The biographies of many of our leading citizens contain a passage such as this: "He had a paper route while in high school." In the course of conducting his business the newspaper boy acquires valuable training for his future career. He learns to meet people on a friendly basis; he learns to buy and sell; to handle money. And above everything else he learns a sense of responsibility that moves him to carry a given task to its completion.

As an average reader you can be sure there is something in every issue of a newspaper that will interest you—your paper sees to that. Sports, politics, world affairs, human interest stories, comics, society, business, et al., are gathered via the press services from all over the world and brought right into your living room. It would be impossible for any individual to gather all this news by himself, so the newspaper brings the news to the individual along with its interpretation in the editorial columns. Through reading your newspaper you become a better informed citizen of the world, and also reap a harvest of personal pleasure.

Sears won all three dashes—100, 200 and 400 yards—in the 1952 and 1953 AEC meets. The 1952 holder of the Martin trophy was University of Arkansas track star Lee Yoder.

Fred B. Warner of Little Rock was elected president of the association. Now vice presidents are John Barnhill, University of Ar-

U. S. Takes in More, Spends More

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government spent more and took more in slightly less in the first quarter of this fiscal year than it did a year before.

Spending in the first three months of fiscal 1954, which began July 1, totaled 399 million dollars more than in the first quarter of last fiscal year.

This increase in expenditures contrasted with predictions the administration made in August that spending this fiscal year would total two billion dollars less than last year. However, the budget revision, forecasting reduced spending, probably applied mainly to the remaining three quarters of the fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Stock Show Enters Its Second Day

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Livestock Show, which survived rain and a case of horse sleeping sickness in a big opening, swung into its second day here this morning.

This was College day at the exposition which serves as the state fair.

The case of sleeping sickness was discovered yesterday in a Little Rock stable that housed horses participating in the Livestock Show parade.

Dr. Joe S. Campbell, state veterinarian, said all animals in the stable were vaccinated at once and that there was little danger to other horses.

The parade in downtown Little Rock attracted an estimated 67,000 spectators and additional thousands swarmed the showgrounds.

Judging was begun in the 4-H and Future Farmers of America divisions yesterday, with girl exhibitors snaring a lion's share of the ribbons.

In the cattle and swing judging, Ruth Thomas, 13, of near Arkadelphia exhibited the grand champion steer. The grand champion cow was shown by Barbara Jean Siegenthaler of Fort Smith and Joan Durnell of Mountain Home had the grand champion Jersey bull.

Russian Pact Idea Blasted by Knowland

Power Policies May Draw Fire Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said today the Eisenhower administration's power policies may be under hotter fire in next year's congressional campaign than its farm program.

Aiken, who leads the Jennings Agriculture Committee, said in an interview he believes the Republican reply to Democratic charges that the administration favors private over public power development lies in expanding Rural Electrification Administration (REA) operations.

"The REA is expanding as it never did before and I think it is going to make a record under Republican control that we can talk about effectively," Aiken said.

The Vermont senator declared in a news conference yesterday that Democrats he did not name have been twisting statements of Secretary of Agriculture Benson and "talking prices down" by their predictions of what will happen under the GOP administration. He conceded he thinks Benson has sometimes badly chosen his words.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said in a separate interview that he doesn't question Benson's honesty and intentions.

"But what is the farm program of this administration?" he asked. "Benson's statements have left only confusion in the minds of the farmers, who want to know what they can expect to replace the Russell-Young parity price support law."

NAMED AMBASSADOR

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has named John E. Pearley, former ambassador to Greece and a Democrat, to be ambassador to Guatemala.

to some Red China policies.

Knowland is Republican floor leader in the Senate, but he maintained he was speaking for himself, not as a member of the Eisenhower administration. There was no White House comment, but Sen. Theodore F. Green (D-R.I.) said: "I hope he is not reflecting White House views. Does he think we can fight the whole world alone?"

Fresh from weekend conferences with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, Knowland told a news conference he would oppose any pact guaranteeing Russia's borders unless the victors advance to free elections in their satellite nations.

Knowland verbally spanked Prime Minister Nehru of India. He said Nehru speaks for only a part of Asia, and that if Nehru's voice was paramount the ultimate communication of Asia would be in prospect.

Questions and answers about NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Q. What are the 3 most important rules for profitable newspaper advertising?

1. Your advertising message should be newsworthy, friendly, informative, easy to read. Give facts and news about your merchandise and service.
2. Advertise regularly. Make your advertising do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.
3. Insist on audited circulation reports that give you the FACTS about the audience that your sales messages will have when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. Is there a measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards a merchant uses in buying merchandise—for example, like STERLING on silver?

A. Yes—in the well known circulation standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

Q. What is the A.B.C.?

A. The A.B.C. is a cooperative, non-profit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, Brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

Q. What does A.B.C. do for me?

A. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of the circulation records of each publisher member. The results of each audit are published in an easy-to-read A.B.C. report for your use and protection when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. What are the FACTS in A.B.C. reports?

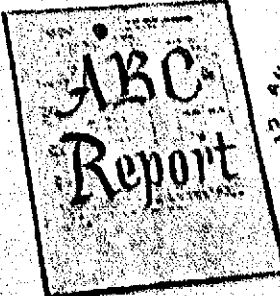

A. A.B.C. reports tell you how much circulation, where it goes, how obtained and other FACTS that help you buy advertising as you would make any sound business investment—on the basis of known values and audited information.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A.B.C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is evidence that the paper is wanted and read.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation. We want you to know the FACTS about the audience your selling messages will have when they appear in these pages. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.
